School Newsletter

We hope you and your family had a restful time during the Labor Day weekend! Hopefully you had some time to unplug from electronics and relax.

Here is the latest news on our waiver. The waiver we submitted the week before last got hung up in Bakersfield. The Kern County representative now has our waiver with the additional information their office requested, and we are hoping to hear news on this within the next couple of days. It has been many days filled with anxiety waiting to hear about St. Ann, especially hearing of local schools and schools within the diocese that have had their waivers granted, but we are really hoping to hear some good news soon. As soon as we receive word from the county office in Bakersfield, we will immediately notify families via Gradelink. Before students return to campus, the office will send out additional and detailed information about allowing students to return to classrooms. Our campus and teachers are excited and ready for the return of students!

STAR testing continues this week and into next. Again, the scores on these tests have no bearing on report cards and grades; they are a small snapshot into the broader and clearer picture of each student. Teachers need students to complete these tests carefully and independently to give true information for teachers to best serve each student.

Please read, share, and enjoy the Partners in Faith handout that is attached.

Have a great week!
